Bolidt has formed a unique alliance with Stratum Resin Flooring Ltd. Stratum is Bolidt's partner in the UK. Their hard work has been paying off lately! Read more about some of the projects ...

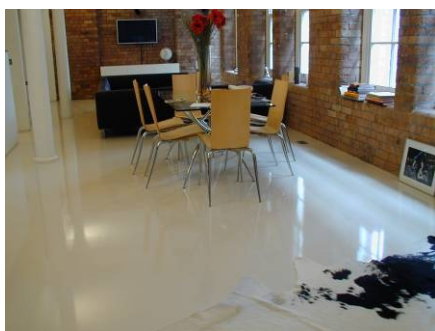

Roundhouse Venue: High quality image

The newly refurbished Roundhouse is a north London landmark venue presenting an international programme of high quality events for diverse audiences. In fitting with this high quality image Stratum was chosen to install their stunning Bolidtop® 525 in deep brown and black. The seamless finish allows for ease of maintenance and the flexibility in the system withstands consistent footfall whilst the silk finish is upheld.

Camper Shoes: Step up with Bolidtop® Jewel

Camper, leading shoe designer and retailer, selected Stratum for the installation of Bolidtop® Jewel resin floor finish within their newly opened store adjacent to London. A special deep red high gloss finish was matched to Camper's own in-house colour, forming the main backdrop to a stunning display of merchandise and enhancing the sense of space. A seamless finish was created for ease of maintenance, providing excellent scratch resistance even under high levels of customer traffic. Bolidtop® Jewel is a unique semi-flexible resin floor system with a three dimensional effect where colour intensity is determined by the absorption and play of light.

The Jam Factory: Bolidtop® in the home!

Two London Designers bought an off plan apartment at the Jam Factory in London and turned their space into a made-to-measure creative home with a stunning difference. The interior design was centered around freedom of space. White was the principal colour flanked by the original brick walls. As a main feature, a completely seamless matching floor finish was installed throughout the entire apartment using Bolidtop® poured resin. The floor's continuous finish served to enhance the sense of openness and light in the new environment.

Kitts Night Club: Sloane Square London

Bolidtop® Jewel resin flooring in high gloss amethyst was installed throughout the newly opened prestigious Kitts Night Club. The floor enhanced the modern interior décor adding sophistication and style to its surroundings. The floor is a great success with the night club's customers. Nicky Mudie from the architects who worked with Stratum complimented the floor in a statement to the company saying: 'Every one has commented on how much they love the floor; it has even made the LED light boxes of naked woman pale into insignificance'.

City & Islington College: A seamless entrance

Stratum was selected for the installation of Bolidtop® resin floor finish within the recently upgraded large main reception and adjoining cafeteria areas of City & Islington College. A dark gunmetal grey finish was selected from the NCS colour range, complementing the interior décor and giving an eggshell sheen to the entrance of the college. The system was designed to withstand constant footfall whilst maintaining its quality and appearance.

Armani: A designer floor for a designer client

Stratum Resin Flooring Ltd worked with Armani's interior designers to produce a stunning floor finish specially designed for their latest flagship store in London. The floor had to provide a unique finish to complement the prestigious clothing collection, with immaculate shine and the ability to withstand constant footfall.

MUJI: An international seamless finish

For the last twenty years the Japanese retailer MUJI has based its corporate strategy on providing products with a natural and simple design. In line with this theme, Stratum Resin Flooring Ltd was selected to provide Bolidtop® 525. This synthetic resin flooring system was installed throughout MUJI's newly refurbished store in London, in a complementary warm grey colour.
